

The text in this green bordered div should be organized to the top right corner, but should be aligned to the left. Also, the text color should be changed from green to purple.

The blue bordered div (that contains this text) should be centered horizontally and vertically within the container div. Also, the text itself should be aligned to the center as well as organized to the center horizontally and vertically as well. The two red boxes should be positioned next to each other in one row!
